GERMANY SIGNS PEACE TREATY, GREATEST OF WARS NOW ENDED

(By United Press)

Versailles, June 28.—The peace treaty has been signed, the German delegates placed their signatures to the document at 3:12 today. President Wilson signed two minutes later and was followed by Premier Lloyd George who signed at 3:17. The German delegates arrived at the palace at 3:02, and the meeting convened one minute later. Foreign Minister Mueller was the first to sign for Germany. Colonial Minister Bell signed immediately after Mueller.

Versailles, June 28.—The greatest war in history formally ended with the signing of the peace treaty. The ceremony took place in the historic palace of Versailles, proceeding with clock like regularity. The German delegates were ushered into the Hall of Mirrors at 3:08 o'clock. Premier Clemenceau immediately opened the meeting by assuring the Germans the treaty text was identical with the one presented to them. In the hall there were places for representatives of nearly every race and creed in the world. The big horse shoe table was on a platform elevated about a foot above the floor. In the center was a smaller table topped with brown leather on which rested the treaty. One chair stood before this table. Ancient and valuable brown tapestry carpet covered the floor and the table seating the delegates was topped with brown tapestry. The German delegates, Mueller and Bell were the first to sign. President Wilson followed them, the first of the allies to sign. Lloyd George and Clemenceau then signed. They were followed by all the other delegates. Premier Clemenceau, president of the conference declared the proceedings closed at 3:50 p. m., the entire ceremony occupying only forty one minutes.

PRESIDENT WILSON ISSUES PROCLAMATION ANNOUNCING SIGNING OF PEACE TREATY

BY ROBERT BENDER,
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Washington, June 28.—Germany today signed the peace treaty. Nearly five years after a proud and lustful monarchy started out to conquer the world, a beaten people today affixed its signature to the allied bill of indebtedness and guilt. Word of the signing flashed to America was followed by a proclamation from President Wilson issued at the White House. It follows:

My Fellow Countrymen:—The treaty of peace has been signed. If it is ratified and acted upon in full and sincere execution of its terms it will furnish the starter for a new order of affairs in the world. It is a severe treaty in the duties and penalties it imposes on Germany, but it is severe only because the great wrong done by Germany are to be righted and repaired. It imposes nothing that Germany cannot do.

Turnbull, a trusted employee in the macerating room of the treasury department, and unearthed more than $65,000 in redeemable treasury notes buried in tin cans. Thousands of dollars in partly mutilated notes also were reported by the agents to have been discovered hidden in the walls and under carpets waiting to be made negotiable by piecing together. Perfecting Plans. Paris, June 28.—Arrangements for signing the peace treaty with Germany are proceeding on the understanding that it will take place at 3 p. m. Saturday (9 a. m. Minneapolis time). The Council of Four was in session perfecting plans for the signing.

If the signing occurs as contemplated, President Wilson plans to leave for Brest immediately afterward, sailing for the United States at noon Sunday.

On the advice of the Council of Four the Chinese delegates have agreed to sign the treaty unreservedly, with the understanding that a protocol later will be added to the treaty, stating that they signed with the understanding that Japan would return the Shantung concessions to China within a stipulated time.

Will Arrive Early. Versailles, June 28.—The German delegation which will sign the peace treaty will arrive in Paris at 9 a. m., it is announced officially.

Soviet Government Officials Proclaim Budapest to Be in State of Siege.

CAPITAL IS UNDER FIRE

Insurgent Monitors Flying National Colors Bombard Foreign Minister Bela Kun's Headquarters From River Danube.

Vienna, June 28.—Budapest is the scene of a counter revolution. The battle began when monitors flying the Hungarian national colors shelled Foreign Minister Bela Kun's headquarters in the Hotel Ungaria from the Danube. This was at once followed by fierce fighting, which lasted all night.

An armistice was declared to permit removal of the dead and wounded. The soviet government proclaimed a state of siege in the capital. Bela Kun, assuming personal command of the soviet forces, has issued a statement claiming the situation is under control.

Intimations were allowed to seep out from Republican circles that 51 votes have been pledged against article 10 (the Monroe Doctrine clause) of the league covenant. Inasmuch as at least two Republicans, McNary and McCumber, have already announced they will vote for article 10 as it stands, the "pledged" vote must include at least four Democrats.

INEXPERIENCE OF OFFICERS

Responsible for Excessive Sentences, Says War Board.

Washington, June 28.—The war advisory board finds that the excessive sentences imposed upon soldier offenders during the war, which led to an attack on the system of military justice, were the result of the inexperience of the courtmartial officers and some reviewing authorities. The board recommends the qualification of two years' experience for such offenders in time of peace, but declares application of this rule rigidly in time of war is impossible. Colonel Ansell's recommendations are rejected, but the board recommends that counsel for the defendant be provided for in all courtmartial.

TO OBTAIN MEAT AT LOW COST

Cities Offered Chance at Surplus by War Department.

Washington, June 28.—Finding that the packers were willing to repurchase 143,000,000 pounds of surplus army canned and cured meats at only 25 to 50 per cent of the prices at which they sold the meats to the government, Secretary of War N. D. Baker rejected all bids and ordered the stock disposed of by negotiations with purchasers of any quantity. ### Mark Twain on Conscience.

There is on record a conversation that Mark Twain had with Kipling. In which the former discoursed on the conscience. The story is told by Kipling. He reports Twain as saying: "A conscience is like a child. If you pet it and play with it and let it have everything that it wants it becomes spoiled and intrudes on all your amusements and most of your griefs. Treat your conscience as you would treat anything else. When it rebels spank it—be severe with it, prevent its coming to play with you at all hours, and you will secure a good conscience; that is to say, a properly trained one. A spoiled one simply destroys the pleasures of life. I think that I have reduced mine to order. At least I have not heard from it for some time. Perhaps I have killed it from severity. It's wrong to kill a child, but in spite of all I have said a conscience differs from a child in many ways. Perhaps it's best when it is dead."

The boys of the entertaining society furnished the ice cream and the girls furnished wild strawberries and cake for the refreshments. One young lady picked twenty quarts of berries.

The evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner and those who went from town expressed their appreciation for the splendid social time. During the winter the town society entertained the country one. This exchange of courtesies will perhaps become an annual event.

Tragedy Turned Into Comedy.

When Charles Kean was playing the part of Richard III his fearful grimaces almost frightened the other actors out of their wits. One night a new man took the character of the sentinel who awoke Richard. When asked, "Who is there?" he should have taken up the cue with the words: "Tis I, my lord. The village cock hath three proclaimed the hour of morn." But Kean's facial contortions threw the sentinel into such a fit of stage fright that he forgot most of his words, stammering: "Tis I, my lord! 'Tis I, my lord! the—village cock!" He repeated this three or four times, so that when Kean said: "Then why on earth don't you crow?" the audience was convulsed with laughter.

LAKE EDWARDS PICNIC

Sunday School Picnic Largely Attended—Good Program of Speeches, Music, Etc.

The Sunday school picnic held at the Lake Edwards school yesterday was well attended and greatly enjoyed. Three or four of the country schools joined for this event under the leadership of Rev. Walter Smith. Mr. Smith had arranged an attractive program of speeches, music and songs by the various schools. A picnic lunch was served at one o'clock and the program was held immediately afterward. Emphasis was laid on the value of the Sunday school for the young people of the country and an appeal was made for increased support of the different community schools. A number of people were present from town.

Playing Tag.

On another occasion I was much amused by three chipmunks, who seemed to be engaged in some kind of game, writes John Burroughs. It looked very much as if they were playing tag. Round and round they would go, first one taking the lead, then another, all good-natured and gleeful as schoolboys. There is one thing about a chipmunk that is peculiar: He is never more than one jump from home. Make a dive at him anywhere and in he goes. He knows where the hole is, even when it is covered up with leaves. There is no doubt, also, that he has his own sense of humor and fun, as what squirrel has not? I have watched two red squirrels for a half hour, coursing through the large trees by the roadside where branches interlocked and engaged in a game of tag as obviously as two boys. As soon as the pursuer had come up with the pursued, and actually touched him, the palm was his, and away he would go, taxing his wits and his speed to the utmost to elude his fellow.

The Amazon.

The Amazon discharges the largest amount of water of any river in the world, and the St. Lawrence next. Other interesting facts about these rivers are that the length of the Amazon is 3,200 miles and its width varies from a few hundred feet at different points to more than 100 miles at its mouth. The St. Lawrence is 2,200 miles in length, is from one to several miles wide at places to ninety miles at its mouth.

DUTCH DENY ESCAPE

Say German Crown Prince Is Still in Holland.

Berlin Paper Predicts Former Kaiser Will Quit Holland, Dutch Government Consenting.

The Hague, June 28.—It is officially announced here that Frederick William Hohenzollern, former German crown prince, whose escape from Holland to Germany had been reported, is still at his residence on the island of Wieringen, in the Zuider Zee.

Kaiser Planning Return.
Berlin, June 28.—Former Emperor William is planning to speedily return to Germany before the Entente can demand his surrender from Holland, according to a Stuttgart dispatch to the Neue Berliner Zeitung. The dispatch states that the Dutch government "thoroughly approves of his return, as the former emperor is an unwelcome guest, and his presence in Holland is increasing the problem before that country."

To Be Expected, Says Gerard.
New York, June 28.—The escape of the former crown prince, Frederick William, of Germany, from Wieringen, was an action he expected, according to James W. Gerard, formerly United States ambassador to Germany. Mr. Gerard said that persons familiar with German kultur and Prussianism had looked for some such move by one of the Hohenzollerns.

Serious complications are possible, Mr. Gerard pointed out, as a result of the former crown prince's return to his country. Any movement, however, to restore the family of the former German emperor to power would inevitably fall in the end, he believed.

Picture Barred from Schools.
Berlin, June 28.—After a discussion at Nuremberg about the removal of pictures of the former emperor and crown prince from the schools, it has been decided that the pictures can remain, with the exception of one of the crown prince, which is "too immoral" for children to see, according to the Neue Berliner Zeitung.

Europe Gets $65,000,000 From U. S.
Washington, June 28.—Credits announced by the Treasury included $50,000,000 to France, $10,000,000 to Italy, and $5,000,000 to Rumania.

LIVE IN STRANGE ABODES

Danes and Hollanders Would Seem to Take Big Chances in the North Sea.

The world's strangest dwelling places are to be found in the North sea, not far from Helgoland.

Centuries ago there was a large and prosperous island province, called Nordstrand, off the coast of Schleswig-Holstein. Storm and earthquake destroyed it one Sunday night, and nearly 8,000 people were drowned.

In course of time, however, high mounds emerged from the waters, and ultimately venturesome Hollanders built their cottages on the summits of these mounds. By snaring fowl and wild duck, collecting eggs, oysters, and seals, they managed to eke out a living.

The sea-girt mounds are known as "halligen." Except on Oland, the largest, there are no trees or fuel, except that obtained from submerged beds of peat, and no fresh water except rain-water collected in butts.

Nevertheless, adventurous Danes and Hollanders, attracted by the thousands of wild fowl and fish, continue to live on the "halligen," in spite of the fact that four months in the year the coarse grass pastures, on which cattle just manage to live, lie under water. Sometimes all is swept away.

Storied Old City.

Danzig is one of the most strongly fortified cities in the world, and has been so through its history. It was a free city through centuries for the same reason that most free cities of the marauding ages were free—because its people had seized upon the naturally powerful defensive topography of the country surrounding, and made its defenses almost impregnable. It was too tough a nut for the kings of the middle ages to crack with their armies, so they graciously allowed it to be free. Under the former German emperor, its militaristic aspect was even more accentuated than it was in the days when it was one of the "Big Four" of the Hanseatic league. With Königsberg, Thorn and Posen, it formed a mighty chain of fortresses.

First "Dust" Explosion.

Until the summer of 1878 such a thing as a "dust explosion" was unknown. No doubt many such explosions had occurred, but they were of small account and no investigation followed to disclose the true nature of the case.

In that summer the Washburn flouring mills at Minneapolis, then the largest in the world, exploded with terrific violence.

Several massive buildings, with granite walls two feet thick and of particularly strong mill construction, were demolished as if by an immense charge of dynamite.

The flame of the first explosion was communicated to two other mills, which were destroyed in the conflagration which followed.

DRUG PROHIBITION

A nation that prohibits the drinking of alcohol is surely inconsistent if it does not also prohibit the non-medical use of habit-forming drugs.

For most of the deadly drugs belonging in this class there are recognized and legitimate medical uses. Morphine, the most common of the narcotics, is properly used, by a physician, in multitudes of cases to deaden intolerable pain. Cocaine, whose consumption in the United States comes second in the list, also has its proper uses, particularly in medical and dental surgery.

Third in volume of sales is heroin, a derivative of opium, closely related to morphine, which is said by experts to be the most dangerous drug in the whole list. It is the most common "dope" used by victims who do not use cocaine or morphine. It seems to be especially attractive and especially devastating to boys and girls.

A committee of experts, after a thorough investigation of the drug situation throughout the United States made at the instance of the United States Treasury Department, reports that in its opinion the medical need of heroin is negligible compared with the evil effects of its non-medical use. The committee therefore suggests "absolute prohibition of the manufacture, sale, distribution or administration of this most dangerous drug."

This recommendation surely deserves serious consideration by the present congress. The drug evil has been diminishing of late, according to the committee's findings; increase of drug addiction was reported in only 14 cities and counties, with a decrease in 627. The Harrison anti-drug act, as amended, is expected to have a wholesome effect in restricting the traffic to legitimate needs. There is general belief, however, that alcoholic prohibition will result in a greater demand than ever for narcotic drugs, and a corresponding stimulation of the underground traffic. If heroin can be dispensed with in legitimate medical practice, as the committee says, it would undoubtedly be a blessing to prohibit it altogether.

TREES FOR EVERYBODY

Reforestation in Massachusetts is well started now. Just recently the state set out 2,000,000 evergreen trees, raised in state nurseries. That is said to be the largest number ever planted in the state in a single year.

According to Massachusetts state forester, F. W. Rane, the most hopeful part of it all is that there is a general public interest in forestry matters which is steadily increasing. The people seem to be awake to the value of forestry work and eager to have the reforestation carried on. It may not be long before they are setting out 10,000,000 trees a year instead of a fifth of that number.

This is as it should be. Every state ought to be planting great tracts of trees annually. Private land owners, too, should have a keen interest in the work. There should be trees for beauty and shade as well as others for future commercial purposes. If the intelligent interest of the public continues to grow in all parts of the country, the time will be nearer when we shall see shade trees along every highway instead of ugly signboards, when no town will be without its beautiful trees and every family will have at least one lovely tree growing where children and adults alike may see and enjoy it.

BUILDING OF NEW WATER WORKS WELL UNDER WAY

Excavations for Reservoir and the Water Tower Have Been Completed

FOUR CARS PIPE MAINS ARRIVE

Power House Foundation being Constructed—Pumping Equipment not Bought

The work of constructing the new city water plant is well under way and consumers are assured of a good and wholesome water supply before the snow flies again.

Excavation for the foundation of the water tower in the depot park grounds are completed, and a high scaffold has been constructed for the pouring of the cement tower.

On the site condemned by the city for the water plant excavation for the big 800,000 gallon reservoir is under way under the supervision of C. B. Rowley for the Circular Concrete company, the contractors. The foundation of the power house is ready to be poured, and progress is being made everywhere.

Four cars of pipes for the big mains have been received and are being distributed today.

A glance at the plans discloses that there will be 2800 feet of main pipe from the power house to the corner of 6th and Vine street, which will be 18 inches in diameter, and from Vine to Quince on 6th the main will be 14 inches. Here the main divides, a branch running to 5th on Quince and down 5th into the business district. Another branch of 12 inch main will be laid on Quince to 7th street and down 7th to the center of the city and on to the water tower in the depot park. From this branch an 8 inch line will be run into South-east Brainerd and on to the N. P. shops. Connection will be made with the present pipe system giving the entire city the benefit of the new supply this fall.

THINKS CITY MUCH IMPROVED

Former Brainerd Citizen Here on a Visit Sees Great Many Improvements

Wm. Hense, a foreman in the Milwaukee railroad shops at Tacoma, who has been visiting his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson for a week, returned yesterday to Tacoma.

Mr. Hense learned the machinists trade in the Brainerd shops 20 years ago under S. L. Bean. He had been to Milwaukee on business for the machinists union.

While here he enjoyed a fishing trip to Gull lake, catching some fine pike.

He thought Brainerd greatly improved, especially in the streets and roads in the surrounding country, since he left here several years ago.

O. S. Swanson, brother-in-law of Mr. Orrvar, is an uncle of Ole Larson of Burnhamville.

Warsaw.

Warsaw is a very beautiful and imposing city as viewed from the castle at Praga across the Vistula, and contains a number of magnificent palaces, among which an ancient Saxon stronghold is the most notable. There also is the cathedral of St. John the Divine, a splendid example of gothic architecture, which dates from 1250.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Brainerd woman is confirmed after ten years.

Mrs. Amanda Erickson, 1103 E. Oak St., Brainerd says: "I suffered with my kidneys for two or three years. A dull pain through my back and loins burdened my health and kept me in constant discomfort. I was subject to headaches and dizziness. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dunn's Drug Store, and now I feel much better in every way."

Mrs. May Thomas, aged 52, passed away at Crow Wing and the funeral was held on Thursday afternoon, Rev. Fred Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiating. Interment was in Fort Ripley cemetery.

She was born at Mattoon, Ill. June 20, 1867. She leaves a son, Angus Thomas of Little Falls and one daughter, Mrs. Dan Nichols of Crow Wing. Her five sisters were Mrs. D. Edgum, Mrs. Wm. Jones, Mrs. F. W. Bonk, Mrs. Frank Haining and Mrs. A. F. Hutchins. Her two brothers were Ed Rail and John Rail.

Arctic Night.

Viewed solely as a matter of optics, the Arctic night is as dark as any night. Explorers in high latitudes say, however, that there are many alleviations of the obscurity. The stars flash keenly, the moon comes along in a regular succession of phases, the snow surface reflects the gloom under conditions of the utmost absence of light, and the aurora borealis is the finest kind of illuminant. Explorers all agree that their men pass the winter night without much difficulty if only there are means of amusement.

OBSERVATION CAR WILL BE RUN ON M. &amp; I.

New Service will Start Monday, June 30—Run from St. Paul to Bemidji

A MUCH NEEDED IMPROVEMENT

That Will be Greatly Enjoyed and Appreciated by the Traveling Public

An observation cafe parlor car will be put on the train running from St. Paul on the Northern Pacific up the Minnesota & International to Bemidji, beginning Monday morning, and thereafter probably until late into the fall. This will be greatly appreciated by the traveling public, as the slow local train running between those points is usually considered a very tiresome trip without the accommodation of a parlor or cafe car for ladies and children especially. The company will find, we are sure, that the venture will greatly pay them in stimulating travel to the lakes of this upper country.

Complaints have been made to the company of the lack of this accommodation and it is very gratifying that it has seen fit to comply with the desires of its patrons.

MOTLEY ROAD

Lively Skirmish on for Securing New Road Into Staples

(Staples World)

The present road to Motley is on the N. P. right of way and on that account it cannot be designated a state road. For this reason it has been apparent for some time that a new road would sooner or later have to be laid out. A few days ago some of the farmers in Villard got up a petition for a road which would leave Motley on the south side of the railroad and run west on a section line to a point about opposite the brickways, then cross the track and on to this city. Engineer Poore has been over this route and says that the road could very easily be built as there are no lakes or hills to encounter along the way. Another route for the new road which is meeting with favor by some would leave Motley and run south to the first section line, thence directly west to the Jefferson highway and on to this city. A petition for this road has also been circulated.

It has been suggested that both roads be opened, as too many roads cannot well be built for the good of all concerned, which is not a bad suggestion.

Baby Camel Learning to Sing

The persuasive power of music over animals is somewhat of a new discovery at least to the laity. To the showman it has been the opening wedge in making skilled performers of unruly beasts.

Al G. Barnes who specializes in teaching wild beasts and animals thought to be unteachable, to perform in high class circus feats, has made a study of the influence of music upon animals and asserts that temperamental tigers, obstreperous lions, snapping and snarling leopards, as well as stupid camels, back biting zebras, all may be coached along more peaceably with music to guide them.

The baby camel of the show, now less than a month old, is already under musical training and Bessie Harvey, the prima donna of the white tops, has adopted this baby as her pet and is giving it a course in vocal culture.

This infant camel has already lost some of its natural habits and will permit Miss Harvey to open its mouth to the fullest capacity, round its lips as if it were going to whistle, then begin its do-re-mi, etc.

Miss Harvey and the baby camel are both prime favorites of the show because of his lovable baby ways, and she because of her charming personality and sweet voice. Miss Harvey rides a snow white steed in her spectacular singing act and a covey of doves are loosed. The doves hearing her voice carolling the latest and most popular songs, come fluttering to her, lighting upon the horse and the girl.

This beautiful musical number is only one of the pretty acts in the 110-feature act program given by 1200 performing animals and 600 people that comes to Brainerd on July 3.

Picturesque Lisbon.

Lisbon, the westernmost of European capitals, spreads itself in leisurely fashion over its 11 hills, extending for more than five miles along the shores of the famous Rada de Lisbon, and for more than three miles inland. Beyond the narrow channel leading out of the Rada through which flow the waters of the Tagus lies the open sea and some 800 miles away over the horizon to the west are the Azores.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Tomorrow "Fools and Their Money," the latest Metro comedy-drama in which Emmy Wehlen is starred, will be the attraction at the Best theatre tomorrow.

The play offers a decidedly original plot with many unexpected and complicating situations. The story is that of a society-seeking wife of a munitions millionaire and a family of century-old aristocrats. The social climber, bedecking herself with all the glory that money can buy, sets out to purchase a place in society. Although she obtains a home adjoining a family high in the social almanac, she soon finds that the gulf which divides them can never be bridged.

The daughter of the blue-blooded family however, is tired of her hedged-in social groove, and in the absence of her parents decides to embark on an adventure of her own. The project is supervised by that wily young person, Cupid, who recognizes no social laws. The consequence is a breezy romance as fresh and fragrant as a day in spring.

Miss Wehlen is charming as the young aristocrat and she is ably supported by such artists as Jack Mulhall, Charles Mailes, Morris McConnell, William V. Mong, Betty Patterson, Gerard Grassby and John Stepling.

H. F. Michael Co.

THIS is a great day! A day that marks the beginning of the most glorious chapter in the pages of human history; a day that thrills with achievement; a day that gladdens the hearts of every living soul in every civilized country on the globe.

We have hoped; we have prayed; we have doubted. We have lived years in these anxious months, that, like the dim gray dawn have followed the storm.

Now, the Star of Peace has burst through the clouds in a blaze of glory.

Peace has been signed and--Behold--A New world has been born!

On this memorable day, let us pledge ourselves anew to the principles of whole-hearted democracy; to the faith that right makes might; and let us dedicate ourselves in thought and deed to the ideal of "Peace on Earth Good Will Toward Men" with a devotion that is holy.

A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, languor and debility, are usually signs that the liver is out of order. PROF. HEMMETER says: "The liver is an organ secondary in importance only to the heart." We can manufacture poisons within our own bodies which are as deadly as a snake's venom. The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sifting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation. A blockage in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take castor oil or a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of Mayapple, leaves of aloe and jalap, put into ready-to-use form by Doctor Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, and sold for 25 cents by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

PATHETIC RUINS OF FRANCE

Once Pretty Villages Which Are as Dead as the Remains of the Roman Forum.

Most of the villages of northern France are as dead and cold as the ruins of the Roman forum—and not half so beautiful. Here were no great architectural splendors. No priceless art collections. They were nothing but plain, humble little hamlets of plain, hard-tilling peasants. The houses were destroyed and the simple, brave, hardy folks who owned them were also destroyed. The graveyards of the men I had seen at Soissons, Champagne, Verdun, row upon silent row. Here were the graveyards of their homes, village after village, as dead as the men. The only difference was that the soldiers had been buried underground while these ghastly mutilated wrecks still remained exposed to view, writes Elizabeth Frazer in Saturday Evening Post.

There was more of this kind of scenery. And more. And more and more. And at last—so soon does the mind become sated by mere flat external spectacles of horror—I began to feel welling up inside of me a vague irritation against all these graveyards of gaping, mutilated specters of what had once been human habitations for being so monotonous, so, repetitious, so drably, blankly, impassably the same. I wanted them to get better or I wanted them to get worse—or I wanted them to be blotted clean off the map. Those mutilated corpses of towns, with their stark immobility, their contorted postures, their shattered members lying rigidly outstretched on the pavement, began to get on my nerves. They had the same stiff fixity, the same grotesque sprawl that one notes in a human corpse frightfully mangled by a shell.

I had heard of men blown to pieces in battle and unrecognizable, even their identification plates gone. Here were their counterparts in hamlets. The lieutenant, searching his map, murmured doubtfully: "It might be A—or it might be B—, It's hard to say."

These nameless ones I put into a list all by themselves and called them X. But presently I gave it up. It was too much like trying to count the volume of water in a reservoir by means of an eye dropper.

Dantzig.

The old fortress of Dantzig is rich in Napoleonic lore. It was here that the Man of Destiny failed to heed the intimations of a grand council of his marshals—Murat, Ney, and the rest, that his star had passed perihelion; it was here that he upbraided them for having grown soft in prosperity, and for opposing the invasion of Russia; and it was from Dantzig that his legions "jumped off" for the ill-fated Moscow campaign.

In a later day Dantzig was the background and the base for the northern shear of Mackensen's gray-green plumes that took Warsaw. Look at the map of the blunt salient that Russian Poland made into the heart of the central empires in the days before the war, and the strategic value of the fortified city in the rear of the invading Germans can readily be seen.

AN IMPORTANT GAME ON SUNDAY

Brainerd and Crosby Clubs to Clash at Koering Grounds at 3 p. m. Sharp June 29

JUDE LEWIS CROSBY PITCHER

Lefty Hier, Local Southpaw, to Pitch for Brainerd—Grounds and Road in Fine Shape

So far as Brainerd is concerned Sunday's game with Crosby at the Koering grounds will be one of the most important in the league game series. Crosby comes to town flushed with four straight victories.

Jude Lewis is slated to pitch for Crosby. He has made a good record pitching this season and has a faculty of keeping the few hits gotten off him well scattered.

Lefty Hier will pitch for Brainerd. He is determined to win and is backed in this resolve by all the rest of the players in the Brainerd team.

Unbiased observers, knowing the ability of the team, are convinced it will be a close game and some score like 2 to 1, or 3 to 2, can be anticipated.

The grounds are in fine shape. Tall grass has been mowed off and the diamond put in excellent shape. The roadway downhill to the grounds has been well cindered, thus giving cars a decent footing on the uphill pull. This will enable more cars to be parked on the grounds instead of being left near the fill.

It will hearten up the Brainerd players to have a good attendance on hand to rally around the locals. That trip to the lakes can be deferred until after the game. Play starts at 3 p. m.

Pie for Breakfast.

Some doctors are discovering and asserting that pie makes a first-class breakfast food. The decision is not as shocking an innovation as it may seem on first reading, for a good many people, who are not doctors, have been eating pie for breakfast many years. If pie is the indigestible thing so many people pretend it is, it looks like good sense to eat it in the morning—if you only have to eat it—and take the whole day for the business of digestion.

IS WINNING PITCHER AT 40

Joe McGinnity, Famous "Iron Man" of Giants, Will Play With Vancouver This Season.

Although he has passed his fortieth milestone, Joe McGinnity is still pitching—and pitching winning ball at that.

The once famous "Iron Man," who helped to win two National league pennants and a world's championship for John Joseph McGraw and the Joe McGinnity, Giants, is now a member of the Vancouver club of the Pacific Coast International league.

McGinnity has lost most of his speed of former days, but his good control and deceptive underhand ball still enable him to fool the minor league batters. The "Iron Man" was one of the leading pitchers in the Pacific Coast International league last season. He won nine games and lost two for a percentage of .818.

DISLIKES 16-PLAYER LIMIT

On Account of Numerous Injuries to Men on His Team Manager Herr Wants an Increase.

Eddie Herr of the Salt Lake Bees is one manager who absolutely does not believe in the 16-player limit. Eddie has had several cripples on his team during the past few weeks, and has been handicapped in that respect so badly that he is overanxious to see an increase in the player limit. At the present time the Bees are in a rather crippled condition, and Eddie claims that, with the great attendance going on, there must be real playing as a return to the fans for their generosity in turning out to the games. Eddie says that the league is drawing big enough crowds to lift the ban.
